An aerial photograph of a modern, two-story house with a dark grey roof featuring solar panels. The house has large windows and a light-colored exterior. In the foreground, there is a rectangular swimming pool with a blue interior, surrounded by a grey paved deck. To the left of the pool is a smaller, dark grey building, possibly a garage or shed. The property is surrounded by a green lawn and mature trees. In the background, there is a line of trees and a clear blue sky.
